Description

A postcard features an image of white, red, and blue train.

Along the side, on the white portion, there is an image of a banner outlined in red with a silhouette of a blue eagle in the center. On the blue portion below it, there is a line of horizontal white text. An alternating pattern of blue and red stars is below the text on a white stripe; it extends across the length of the vehicle. The train is positioned at a slight angle with a clear blue sky in the background.
